

projects

mattin center for arts

Client: John's Hopkins University

Location: Baltimore, Maryland

Project Type: New Construction

Seat Count: 250

Opening: 2001

Cost: $17 Million

Architect: Tod Williams and Billie Tsien Architects

Contact: Tod Williams | TWBTA | 212.582.2385

AD Scope: Acoustics | Sound Isolation | Noise Control | Audio Systems

Johns Hopkins University's new student arts center in Baltimore, Maryland, provides support spaces for a variety of artistic endeavors. Musicians have access to music rehearsal spaces and individual practice rooms. Actors enjoy a black box theatre. Dancers have a state-of-the-art dance studio. There are art rooms, a darkroom for photography, a digital media center for graphic artists, computer stations and three meeting rooms. A public café is equipped with an open microphone for poetry readings.

AD provided the acoustic and audio systems design for the facility.