PPL Park, is a soccer-specific stadium that is the home of the Philadelphia Union expansion team and the expansion franchise of Women's Professional Soccer. The stadium, situated along the Delaware River, is the centerpiece of a future large economic development with plans calling for a riverwalk, entertainment, retail and residential projects.

40-50 annual events are expected to be held on the natural grass pitch of PPL Park with a built-in concert stage, one main event/concourse level, a suite/club level, and a press level. Other key items include 30 luxury suites, a 2,000 person supporters club section, a full service club restaurant, press support, back of house and concert accommodations.
