The expansion of Trinity Church of the Assemblies of God campus included a new 2,000-seat worship center, lobby, atrium, indoor playground with puppet stage, indoor play assembly/playscape and a basic A/V studio. The “Hub” atrium was designed to have a welcoming feel and provides flow in and out the sanctuary lobby, providing circulation and supporting community in the church with a coffee bar and café style seating. Acoustic Dimensions designed a/v systems throughout the campus additions, including IMAG video and archival recording, in-house production capability, mid-level video production and accommodations for data distribution for audio and video for future projects.
