Consisting of a 600 seat multi-use venue, classrooms and café/bookstore space, the new building at First Evangelical Free Church of Fullerton is an extremely popular place to worship, attend a concert, or just hang out. During planning for the building Acoustic Dimensions was engaged to handle design of the audio, video, and theatrical lighting systems as well as to deal with acoustical issues such as the close proximity of neighboring houses. No stranger to these challenges, AD helped the design team work through each of them and arrive at a successful conclusion.
