Acoustic Dimensions first began working with Gateway Church in Southlake when they expanded their 700 seat worship facility to seat 1400. When explosive growth outpaced their existing facilities, Gateway began planning their new campus located off of Highway 114 between Kimball and Carroll Avenues. The new facility includes a 4,000 seat auditorium, audio and video production facilities, children's auditoriums, adult classrooms and support spaces, each requiring audio, video, and lighting systems.

Gateway Church's pastor, Robert Morris is the host of The Blessed Life on Daystar. Part of the design of the new campus is the inclusion of a television studio and full broadcast systems to support production. The video production room includes a single switcher with 3 control surfaces to support IMAG, Broadcast, and studio functions independently.
